RAOK for Halloween

Treat Bags for Neighbors: Create small treat bags filled with candies and leave them on your neighbors' doorsteps with a kind note.

Decorate a Senior Center: Visit a local senior center and help residents decorate their common areas with Halloween-themed decorations.

Costume Donations: Collect gently used costumes and donate them to families who might not be able to afford them.

Pumpkin Painting: Organize a pumpkin painting or carving event at a local children's hospital or shelter.

Boo Your Friends: Start a "You've Been Boomed" tradition in your neighborhood.

Donate Candy: Give some of your Halloween candy to a local food bank or homeless shelter.

Haunted House for Charity: Create a haunted house in your garage or backyard and charge a small fee for entry. Donate the proceeds to a charity.

Trick-or-Treat for a Cause: Instead of collecting candy for yourself, go trick-or-treating with a donation box for a charity or cause you support.

Costume Swap: Organize a costume swap event in your community where families can exchange costumes from previous years.

Kind Notes in Candy Bags: Slip uplifting notes or compliments into the candy bags you hand out to trick-or-treaters.

DIY Treats: Bake or make homemade treats like cookies, brownies, or popcorn balls to give out to trick-or-treaters.

Leave a Surprise for Mail Carriers: Leave a thank-you note and some Halloween treats in your mailbox for your mail carrier.

Scary Movie Night: Host a scary movie night at home or at a community center and invite friends or neighbors to join.

Share Pumpkin Seeds: If you carve pumpkins, roast the seeds and share them with friends and family.

Donate used Halloween decorations: Donate used Halloween decorations to local schools, daycare centers, or community centers for future celebrations.

Alternative Trick-or-Treating: Instead of going door-to-door for candy, collect non-perishable food items for a local food bank or a shelter in need.
